One Week until Thanksgiving! Gosh, this year is flying by! There are so many things to be thankful for but today I am going to focus on the community that influences SJS! Friday we took a group of students to the YHS pep rally where we were welcomed and included and our students had the BEST time! Thank you, YHS, for hosting our students and impressing upon them what it looks like to be so spirited and proud! Then, later that day we celebrated the Veterans in our community. We had so many Veterans and parents and family and friends show up to support our program - it was emotional, touching, impressive and overall inspiring. Mrs. Mican and her Veteran's Day program committee and the SJS students prepared an amazing program; and it was so successful because of the community of people who attended. We thank all of the Veterans for all they have done! And, a special thank you to HEB. Yoakum's HEB partnered with our Veteran's Day program to provide refreshments for all in attendance. They also brought along gift cards for a fun drawing for all of the Veterans in attendance, HEB, I hope you know that we recognize all you do for SJS and for the community of Yoakum.

Up this week... First Basketball game of the season! Tigers will play in El Campo this Thursday @ 5 pm. Friday, we have our SJS Thanksgiving dinner - can't wait to see all of our families and friends! And next week, Wednesday, we begin our Thanksgiving Holiday!

Blessings to you all & Happy Thanksgiving from SJS!
